Leadership Decision

The reason we decided to have this order in our leadership rotation was that Trey Cowell has previously come up with lots of different ideas and quick prototypes in a short period of time. This means that the early project workflow will be rather flexible. We are going to need that flexibility and creative leadership in the initial stages of our project when our focus is on the design thinking stages.

In terms of our second half of the semester Roy Wales will be taking leadership. He is very good at focusing and refining a concept and will be a necessary leader during the second half of the semester. He is analytical and is able to make the necessary design cuts if needed. We believe that these skill sets complement each other well and will lead to a strong two-term semester when it comes to the learning goals in emerging technology.
